

Subjectivism and inferential reasoning on teaching practice

Laura Rifo
UNICAMP, Brazil

Abstract

In this work, we analyze well-succeeded strategies and challenges of teaching principles of decision theory as developed by DeGroot, Lindley and Blackwell, for students in secondary school. Among other things, we emphasize the aspects of probability and conditional probability under the subjectivistic interpretation and inferential reasoning based on a Bayesian learning approach.